Deep in the rainforest!

Nestled on the banks of the Pacuare River, Rios Lodge is the perfect backdrop for any style of adventure—surrounded by the beauty and splendor of Costa Rica's tropical rainforest, all while enjoying comfortable rooms overlooking the river, in-room electricity, lighted walkways at night, and sumptuous tropical meals and beverages. Sustainably built using reclaimed wood and totally off the grid with hydroelectric power, our ecolodge is an award-winning model of regenerative ecotourism.

The Rios Lodge is located in Limon Province on the Atlantic side of Costa Rica. It is adjacent to the Cabecar Indigenous Reserve and to one of Costa Rica's largest biological corridors. The nearest towns are Santa Marta and tiny Bajos del Tigre—but don't let that fool you: we are not accessible by car! All guests, staff, and supplies come in either via hiking the trail or rafting down the river. Getting here is definitely part of the adventure fun...when we say we are a remote lodge in the rainforest, we mean it!

Situated on 250 acres of primary and secondary rainforest, the lodge enjoys hiking trails created and used by the indigenous Cabecar people. Acquired by Rios Lodge Stewards in 2022, we are committed to upholding the Rios Tropicales heritage while introducing exciting upgrades and expansions, like the all new Eco Rooms that opened in 2023. Rios Lodge proudly operates with local staff and uses regenerative forms of power for electricity.

A photograph of a bedroom interior. A large bed with a wooden headboard is the central focus, covered with white linens and a dark blue throw. The bed is decorated with several white towels rolled into swan shapes, red flowers, and a single teal square pillow. The ceiling is made of light-colored wood with dark wooden beams. The walls are white, and the floor is made of light-colored wood. The lighting is warm and soft, coming from bedside lamps.

Meals Included

Our guests have many special experiences at Rios Lodge, and some of the most memorable happen during meals overlooking the river. This is the time to share stories, connect with friends old and new, and, of course, enjoy impressive dishes. Groups come together in our open-air dining pavilion for breakfast, lunch, and dinner to taste fresh, delicious flavors of the rainforest.

We minimize our ecological impact with renewable solar and micro hydropower energy. We reduce, recycle, and reuse wherever possible, and transport non-compostable items by rafts for proper disposal and recycling in Siquirres. Our Turrialba Operations Center reduces the load required of our off-the-grid energy systems and maximizes our efficiencies.

Our in-house chef knows that the best dishes start with the individual ingredients, so we prioritize using the freshest foods, locally sourced whenever possible. We partner with local farmers to source the highest-quality vegetables, eggs, and herbs. These partnerships help us create beautiful dishes that come straight from the land around you when you visit Rios Lodge, honoring our commitment to community and sustainability.

Dietary Info

At our remote ecolodge, we have a fixed menu and plan all the dishes two weeks before guests arrive. Our menu includes vegetarian and vegan dishes. In addition, several dishes can be made gluten-free upon advance notice.

- Vegetarian and Vegan

- Gluten-Free Options

We have worked hard to create an amazing and varied menu, but due to our remote location and minimal on-site cold storage, we are not able to secure last minute or on-site special requests. We will do our best to support your group members.

About Our Chef

We are honored and excited to house a skilled chef who can turn simple, fresh ingredients into a meal you'll remember for years. From classic Costa Rican fare to thoughtful fusion dishes, our dining experience will leave you satisfied and looking forward to the next meal.

Chef Luca has traveled the world as a highly-esteemed chef, working in fine dining in France, the Caribbean, Canada, Ibiza, and now, Costa Rica. Chef Luca loves to play with fusion cuisine, combining unique tropical ingredients with the strategies of a French cuisine-trained chef.

Conservation

We believe in the power of community and conservation – at the local, national, and international level. Our commitment to furthering the legacy of Rios Tropicales co-founder Rafael “Rafa” Gallo includes partnering with the Rivers and Forests Alliance, founded by the Gallo-Jimenez Family on conservation projects that include their 2,000+ acre private rainforest reserve.

- Rainforest reforestation & biodiversity protection.
- Collaborating with and supporting local conservation partners with in-kind and financial support to protect the greater Pacuare River ecosystem.
- Collaborating with local ecotourism partners to boost sustainable community economic development.
- Collaborating with indigenous communities to support their goals.

Sustainability

Sustainability is so much more than a buzzword at the Rios Lodge; it has been the cornerstone of all lodge development and operations since the lodge was first started in 1989. Initiatives include:

- Solar Power
- Off-the-Grid Micro Hydropower Energy
- Reclaimed Building Materials
- Leave No Trace Practices
- Regenerative Tourism & Conservation
- Local Staff, Free Community Trainings

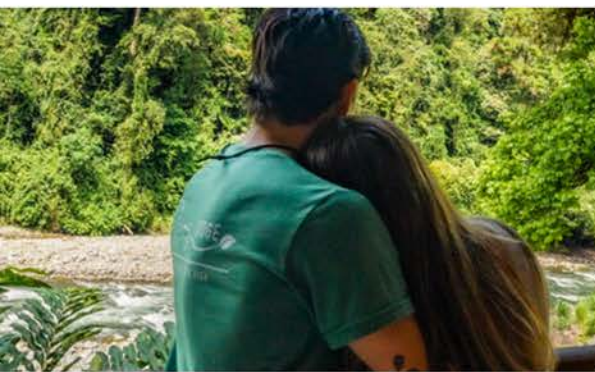

A group of 12 people, including men and women of various ages, are posing for a photo in a shallow pool of water at the base of a waterfall. The waterfall is cascading over dark, mossy rocks. The surrounding area is a dense, lush jungle with various green plants and trees. The people are dressed in casual outdoor attire, including t-shirts, tank tops, and hats. Some are giving thumbs up or peace signs. The overall atmosphere is relaxed and adventurous.
